GLOBAL CHAT

“Harvard Effective Altruism— Using evidence and reason to maximize the impact of efforts to make the world better”

Harvard Effective Altruism is a student group at Harvard College and Harvard Business School. The group is dedicated to spreading the ideas of effective altruism to better the global community. Previous HEA speakers include Peter Singer, Nick Bostrom, Max Tegmark and Thomas Pogge.

This year, HEA plans to become a Harvard University-wide student organization. Come to the first SG Global Chat of the year to hear more about HEA, the events the group has planned, and ways to get involved.

Presented by Eric Gastfriend (HBS) and Anders Huitfeldt (HSPH)

Wednesday, October 8th

12:30-1:20pm, Kresge G2

Global Chat is an interactive health forum wherein experts from around the world, including your fellow classmates, share experiences and expertise in an informal and informative setting.
