

In light of the rapidly developing COVID-19 outbreaks, we are mindful that many institutions are choosing to cancel sizable events and many individuals are avoiding large gatherings and non-essential travel. While we do not normally offer livestreams of our events, we will be doing so for the events we are hosting this semester, including Artificial Intelligence and Disability/Dependency: Equity, Access, and Interdependence and Debt, Dignity, and Health Care: Guaranteeing Health Rights and Universal Coverage. The best way to ensure that you will receive access to the livestream and be kept up to date on any changes to our events is to register using the links on our event pages.

Hosting events, even ones that are largely virtual, is a constantly moving target these days and we appreciate your patience and flexibility as we fine tune our approach. In the meantime, we hope you all stay well.

Controlling the Novel Coronavirus

Would rapid-testing work better than scanning for fever at airports? Than cordon sanitaire? Than panicked efforts to develop, test, and distribute a vaccine that may take a year?
