

We are excited to announce that the application for the 2022-2023 Petrie-Flom Student Fellowship is now open for priority consideration for Harvard Law students. Applications for priority consideration are due May 27. Other Harvard graduate students, don't worry — you'll be eligible to apply over the summer during our general round. Read more about the fellowship and application requirements on the application page.

Next week, our Project on Advanced Care and Health Policy, a collaborative effort with the Coalition to Transform Advanced Care (C-TAC), is hosting a virtual conference to explore the opportunities for states to bring a broad range of palliative care services to seriously ill persons, particularly through changes to their Medicaid programs. Join us on April 27th to hear from experts, including Aditi Mallick, MD, Chief Medical Officer, Medicaid and CHIP, Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). Register now!

The following week, we'll host two timely panel discussions. On May 3rd, join us for a conversation on how medical justice can be achieved for incarcerated populations. Our panelists will bring diverse perspectives to the matter, from health care providers to legal representatives. On May 5th, Allocating Scarce Medical Resources: Equity and Justice Concerns will gather experts working in medicine, law, and ethics for a discussion of crisis standards of care. Keep up to date with these events and more on our website!

Spotlight on Scholarship

Long COVID and Physical Reductionism

Like plaintiffs with other conditions lacking definitive physiological markers, long COVID plaintiffs seeking disability anti-discrimination law protections have confronted courts suspicious of their reports of symptoms and insistent on medical evidence.
